SHANK FUNERAL FRIDAY MORNING

Leaves Six Children, the Youngest Eleven Months, the Oldest Eleven Years. Coroner Holds an Inquest.

The body of Charles G. Shank, who was killed in a hunting accident in Buchanan Valley Tuesday afternoon, was taken in an automobile truck to his home at Guernsey in the evening after the coroner's inquest. The body did not reach his home until between ten and eleven o'clock. Arrangements were then made for the funeral which will be held from his home at ten o'clock Friday morning, Rev. C. F. Floto, of Biglerville, conducting the services. Interment will be made at Biglerville.

On Tuesday evening Coroner Albert Woomer conducted an inquest at the home of John Cole. The jury heard a number of witnesses and rendered a verdict that death was caused by a wound received following the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of Charles Stover. Mr. Stover was relieved of all blame. The jury was composed of Andrew Kane, Arlin Carbaugh, Leroy Kane, George G. Kane, C. H. Knouse, and J. C. Kane.

He leaves his wife and six small children, the oldest only eleven years old and the youngest only eleven months. They are William, John Edward, Wendell, Anna, and Edna. He also leaves a brother, George Shank, Biglerville, and a sister, Mrs. Edith Barr, Hagerstown. He also leaves two half brothers, William Shank and Ira Shank, of Lafayette, Indiana.

The ball which struck Mr. Shank severed an artery in the leg and he simply bled to death. It was a one ounce ball and after going through the unfortunate man's hip passed through a door against which he was standing, and lodged in the wall on the opposite side of the building thirty feet away.

Mr. Shank was well known in Gettysburg where he was a frequent attendant at the curb market. He was a son of the late Israel Shank and spent his entire life in the vicinity of Guernsey.

The tragedy has aroused the deepest sympathy for all concerned, but especially for the widow and her young children.

Friends and relatives will accept the above notice of the funeral.

TYPHOID FEVER FROM OYSTERS

Seven Nurses Ill and Raw Oysters are Blamed for Causing Sickness. Near Epidemic at Mont Alto Sanatorium.

An outbreak of typhoid fever among the nurses at the Mont Alto Sanatorium threatens to assume serious proportions. Seven are ill with the disease, and three more are under observation and believed to be developing the ailment. Nurses from the various State dispensaries have been dispatched to Mont Alto to take the places of those who are sick.

The cause of the outbreak has for some time been a matter of conjecture but it is believed now that it was caused by raw oysters which contained the germs. The milk and water at the institution were both tested and found to be free from the typhoid germs, and then an effort was made to find some other possible source of infection.

It was finally recalled that, several weeks ago, a farewell dinner was given for one of the nurses who was about to leave the place and that, among the other things on the menu, there appeared oysters in various "styles." Inquiry among the nurses revealed the fact that all of those who were ill had eaten raw oysters, while the others who were at the banquet had either eaten no oysters at all or had eaten them cooked. This seemed to fix the source of the infection without any doubt.

No evidence of the illness has appeared among the tuberculosis patients at the sanatorium and the physicians believe they have the present cases among the nurses well in hand. There are about seventy women employed as nurses at the big mountain institution.

NEED $5000 NOW FOR RAILROAD

Tuesday Evening Meeting Showed that State of Affairs Regarding Prospects for East End Line. Grade Crossings.

Only $5,000 more in subscriptions need be obtained before the promoters of the East Berlin and Abbottstown railroad will be in a position to take steps toward placing the line in operation without any bonded indebtedness being incurred, it was stated by a director of the company at the conclusion of a meeting of the board held at East Berlin Tuesday evening.

Prospects of the new company restoring rail communication to East Berlin and Abbottstown are bright, it is said, and the work of obtaining subscriptions will be continued.

The report of the committee which last week bought from the Baltimore firm the equipment and rolling stock was received and the purchase confirmed. The final hearing on the granting of restoration of the charter will be held on December 18. The company is now working on a preliminary decree.

Thirty Young Men Start out to Get Rid of Shadowy Visitor.

A letter from McSherrystown says, The "spook" story still continues to be the leading topic of conversation among the children, as well as a number of older folks in the upper part of town. Last evening a party of over thirty boys armed with clubs, guns, and other weapons, organized into a "Spook Posse," and went to the sand hole. However, the boys were very noisy and seemed to be too many for the spook. Therefore the woman who it is claimed haunts the spot crying, "O where is my baby?" did not appear.

GREEK ENVOYS SENT TO SALONIKA

Believed to Convey Decision Against Demobilization.

FRENCH FORCED TO RETIRE

Berlin Says Foo Was Driven Back
In Vardar Region—Bulgars Are Defeated.

London, Dec. 8.—A Greek military commission has left Athens for Salonika to discuss personally with representatives of the allies, the Balkan situation as far as Greece is involved. There is strong presumption that members of the commission will inform the representatives of the allies that the Greek general staff has advised against the demand of the entente powers that Greece demobilize and withdraw her forces from Greek Macedonia.

Five members of the Greek general staff have recently accepted special decorations sent to them by Emperor William according to a despatch from Milan.

The Athens correspondent of the Paris Matin affirms that the only effective course for the entente is to apply a blockade to Greece, and adds: "It will be all the more fruitful in results since popular discontent with the royal policy is growing perceptibly. If the elections had been held three weeks ago the Venizelos party would have been beaten but now, notwithstanding the extraordinary conditions under which they will be held he is likely to get a majority. A blockade not only would starve the population but would ruin the mercantile marine, Greece's sole source of wealth. Consequently the general public is deeply agitated and business circles are anxious."

Berlin announces that the French forces in southern Serbia have been compelled to give up their positions in the salient formed by the Cerna and Vardar rivers owing to threatened envelopment.

The report further says: "Ipek (Montenegro) has been evacuated. Prisoners brought in during yesterday's fighting numbered 1250." Defeat of the Bulgarians in attacks last Sunday on the French line at three points, at Abazari, Demir-Kapi and Costomirno, is reported in a despatch from Athens to Paris.

The Serbian retreat into Albania says the despatch, is proving difficult because of the cold weather and the bad state of the roads, and also is hampered by the presence in the Serbian ranks of more than 40,000 Austrian prisoners. There are now 100,000 Serbian troops and 20,000 refugees gathered in Albania, the Athens advices state.

A Bucharest despatch says that according to estimates from German sources the central powers lost only 7000 men in the Serbian campaign.

Athens reported that British transports landed additional allied divisions at Salonika on Sunday. Artillery are armored automobiles are being hurried to the front. (A division is 12,000 men.)

EARTHQUAKE SHAKES WEST

Carlo People Rush Into Streets and Pictures Thrown Down in Paducah.

Chicago, Dec. 8.—A despatch from Cairo, Ill., says a severe earthquake shock lasting from ten to fifteen seconds was felt there. No damage was reported.

According to the weather bureau records at Cairo the shock lasted fifteen to twenty seconds. Persons in all parts of the city ran to the streets. This was the second earthquake felt in Cairo this year, the first being recorded on February 18. The vibration seemed to extend north and south. There are no instruments there to record earth shocks.

A shock of several seconds' duration rocked buildings in Paducah, Ky., and vicinity. In some houses pictures were shaken from the walls and other objects knocked down. No material damage has been recorded there. Benton, Marshall county, and Keokuk, Ballard county, Kentucky, reported the tremors also were felt there.

Pays $250,000 for a Rug
Philadelphia, Dec. 8.—Mrs. Alexander Hamilton Rice, it was learned, has purchased a Spanish rug, which once adorned the palace of the Grand Mogul at Delhi, India, and paid $250,000 for it. Mrs. Rice was until recently Mrs. George D. Widener, and by her first marriage, a daughter-in-law of the late P. A. B. Widener.

Newspaper to Stop Publication
Allentown, Dec. 8.—The Republican, a German weekly, which made its first appearance 105 years ago, will cease to exist after December 21. For nearly a century the paper found its way into thousands of homes in the United States and Germany. It was a Democratic organ and in its time wielded a mighty influence.

French Submarine Sunk in Adriatic
London, Dec. 8.—The Austrian war office announced the destruction of the French submarine Fresnel by an Austrian warship. The incident occurred near San Giovanni di Medua. Two officers and twenty-five of the crew were captured, the full complement of the vessel.

VON DER GOLTZ GOES TO BAGDAD FRONT

Field Marshall Takes Command of Turks.

Geneva, Dec. 8.—The Germans are preparing on a large scale for operations in Mesopotamia under Field Marshal Baron Kolmar von der Goltz, who has just been appointed commander of the Turkish forces in Mesopotamia, according to private information received by the Journal de Geneve.

Although the Germans speak ostensibly of Egypt, says the despatch to the Journal, it is not impossible that they may make their principal efforts this winter from Bagdad towards the Persian gulf.

Turks Follow Up Victory
Constantinople, Dec. 8.—Turkish forces that defeated the British in the Tigris valley between Ctesiphon and Kut el Amara are following up their victory.

The positions to which the English fell back at Kut el Amara are being attacked by the Turks and spirited fighting is in progress there.

VILLA EXECUTES 14 WOMEN

Convicted by Court-martial of Spying.
They Are Shot to Death.

El Paso, Tex., Dec. 8.—Fourteen women were shot to death at Casas Grandes, Chihuahua, on Sunday, by Villa military authorities, according to a despatch received by the Carranza consulate.

The women were court-martialed and convicted of being spies in the pay of the de facto government.

At the court-martial letters were produced, alleged to have been taken from the women which were to be delivered to Villista officers suggesting to them that the Carranza government would be willing to extend amnesty if they would surrender their swords, or would grant them commissions in the federal army if they delivered Casas Grandes into the de facto government's hands.

Deriding the execution, the advices said that the women, ranging from girls to grandmothers, all in peon garb, were led from the court-martial room. Some wept but most were stoical. All were herded in line against a long adobe wall. Some hid their faces with their hair as the rifle squad, chosen by the commander of the district, raised their guns. Not all fell at the first volley, but the remainder sank to the ground with the second round of fire.

MANN RAPS DEFICIT

Says Democrats Cannot Administer
Government Successfully.

Washington, Dec. 8.—James R. Mann, minority leader in the house said of the president's message:

"To me, being of a practical turn of mind, the feature of the president's message which was of the most interest was the admission that without additional burdens of taxation, the treasury of the United States faces a deficit of $297,000,000. It shows the Democratic party is incapable of administering the government."

Claude Kitchin, the majority leader, said: "It was a strong message, remarkably strong." Speaker Clark declined to comment on the message.

U. S. STEAMER SUNK BY U-BOAT

Standard Oil Vessel Attacked
Off Tripoli.

SHELL TANKER PETROLITE

Ship Which Sent Out Wireless Call for Help Last Saturday Identified by U. S. Cruiser.

Dhiooshrd hrdl hrdl hrdl mndl
Rome, Dec. 8.—The American steamer Communiapaw has been sunk by a submarine in the Mediterranean, near Tobruk, Tripoli.

No information has been received concerning the crew or the nationality of the submarine.

The steamer Communiapaw was recently held by the Italian government at Genoa, but was allowed to sail for her destination on December 2, owing to representations made to the government by the American embassy at Rome.

The Communiapaw was owned by the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and sailed from New York October 27 for Egypt.

U. S. Flag Is Fired On

Washington, Dec. 8.—The American steamship fired upon by an Austrian submarine off the island of Crete last Saturday, and which sent out S O S calls for help, was identified as the Standard Oil tanker Petrolite.

Word to this effect came to the navy department from the cruiser Des Moines, at Canea, Crete, and advices stated that one man was wounded.

The Petrolite sailed from New York November 7 for Alexandria, Egypt, with oil in bulk. She passed Gibraltar November 21.

The message made no mention of damage to the steamer, nor did it give the nationality of the man injured, but said the injuries were slight.

The despatch from the Des Moines came from Canea, island of Crete, and reported that the following message had been picked up Sunday: "American steamship Petrolite Alexandria to New York, attacked by a submarine this (Sunday) morning at 6.20, longitude 32.25 north, latitude 26.8 west. One man not seriously injured."

The commander of the cruiser said he had obtained from the commander of the Petrolite the additional information that the submarine which attacked the American steamer flew the Austrian flag and "looked like a big cruiser."

The man who was wounded was struck by a fragment of an explosive shell fired from the submarine.

It is believed that the Petrolite was flying the Stars and Stripes when she was attacked as she was navigating a danger zone and would undoubtedly reveal her nationality as a matter of precaution.

The state department said that nothing could be done in the case until further facts were supplied. It was inferred from the despatch that the Petrolite had been fired upon during the course of a successful attempt to escape. If her captain disregarded a demand to submit to search, there probably will be no attempt to make a diplomatic incident of the case.

WOULD STOP WAR EXPORTS

Senator Hitchcock Introduces Bill to End U. S. Trade in Munitions.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Abolition of the United States trade in war orders, and the elimination of private concerns from the manufacture of war munitions, is contemplated in bills proposed in the senate by Senator Hitchcock of Nebraska. His plan includes:

An embargo on the exportation of all munitions of war to any country engaged in war with which the United States is at peace.

Gradual taking over by the federal government of a monopoly of the manufacture of arms and munitions for its own use.

A tax on war profits to meet the treasury deficit.

Senator Hitchcock said he expected a strong support for his resolution from the middle west and west. A maximum penalty of $100,000 fine and three years' imprisonment is prescribed for violations of the law.

The bill to nationalize munitions industries would gradually put the government into every line of munitions manufacture, including the making of powder, rifles, armor plate, shells and general supplies. A tax on war profits will be pressed by Senator Hitchcock before the senate finance committee as a method of raising revenue to fill the depleted treasury.

FLOOD OF BILLS POURS INTO SENATE

Over 1000 Introduced on the First Day.

Washington, Dec. 8.—More than a thousand bills were introduced in the senate the first bill day of the session.

The record was made by Senator McLean, of Connecticut, who introduced 157. The first bill to be introduced and which will be No. 1, is the measure to establish a department of public health, by Senator Owen. This bill has been No. 1 in the last two congresses.

Most of the bills introduced were of private character. Among measures of public interest were Senator Weeks' bill to require the registration of legislative attorneys and legislative agents.

Senator Sheppard's bill for a "dry Washington," which enacts the national capital shall be dry after November 1, 1916.

Senator Thomas' bill authorizing an issue of $500,000,000 certificates of indebtedness by the government to meet the needs of national defense. Also a bill for federal incorporation of railroads.

Senator Saulsbury submitted a measure for civil government in Porto Rico.

Proposed constitutional amendment for woman suffrage was introduced by Senators Thomas and Sutherland.

Senator Lodge reintroduced a bill to dissolve the foundation for industrial peace which Theodore Roosevelt established with the proceeds of the Nobel prize awarded to him for the part he played in bringing about peace between Russia and Japan. The foundation proved to be an impractical scheme and Colonel Roosevelt finds that he cannot recover the money from the trustees without legislation from congress. He has announced that if he ever gets possession of the $40,000 once more he will donate it to the cause of labor. The bill was introduced in the last congress but no action was taken. Mr. Lodge also reintroduced a bill giving one cent postage to circulating libraries. He also reintroduced a measure to strengthen Chinese exclusion laws.

Pennsylvanians Named

Washington, Dec. 8.—Nominations of several Pennsylvanians were sent to the senate for confirmation. They were John Brook Evans, of Pottstown, for assistant treasurer of the United States at Philadelphia; H. Frank Moore, for deputy commissioner in the bureau of fisheries, and John Latta Ryan, J. Paul Jameson and William L. Jenkins for consular offices.

Church Burns Down

Marlborough, N. Y., Dec. 8.—The Methodist church burned to the ground and the belfry of the Episcopal church was consumed by fire. The loss is $50,000. It is believed that birds which were nesting carried matches into the Methodist church tower and ignited them in some way.

The death march was a short one and Murphy was strapped in the chair within a minute after he left the death chamber. As he was being strapped, Murphy said:

"Don't do it. If not for my sake, for God's sake."

Three volts of electricity were administered by David C. Currie, of Boston, the electrician, before Murphy was pronounced dead.

SOCIAL WELFARE BILLS ADVOCATED

Congress to Be Asked to Promote Nation's Progress.

CHILD LABOR MEASURE READY

Convict Labor, Tuberculosis and Immigrant Protection Demand Special Attention—Welfare of the People is One of the Most Important Methods of Preparation.

The importance in connection with "preparedness" of a number of pieces of legislation which are aimed to better the nation's condition and facilitate its progress along both commercial and social lines and which are to be submitted to congress along with the plans for increased armament is emphasized by Graham Ramey Taylor in a statement issued by the Survey Social Service Press service.

"Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute," is a slogan that once served to stir the nation to vigilance in the protection of its rights," says Mr. Taylor. "A question which confronts congress is the relation of possible millions for defense to the social welfare of the nation's people. Surely the countries of Europe have come to realize that in equipping themselves for war the welfare of their people is by no means the least factor.

"Failure to secure early consideration of bills was one of the chief reasons for the disappointing results in social legislation before the last congress. The Palmer-Owen child labor bill, for instance, passed the house, but the objection of a single senator killed it in the upper chamber. The second round campaign for the bill is now going forward with vigor in the hands of the national child labor committee.

Child Labor Bill.

"The bill prohibits interstate commerce of goods in the production of which children under fourteen have worked in mills, factories, canneries or workshops; children under sixteen have worked in mines or quarries; children between fourteen and sixteen have worked at night, or more than eight hours a day in factories.

"Another measure designed to regulate the conditions under which goods are manufactured through federal authority over interstate commerce is the bill concerning the products of convict labor. A state may regulate its own convict labor, but it cannot bar convict made goods coming in from another state. The Roebuck-Hughes bill, as it was known at the last session, has passed the house four times. A year ago it was favorably reported by the senate committee, but never came to a vote.

"The new bill will provide for a commissioner of prisons, in whose office would be concentrated all of the activities with the duties of investigating administration, housing and social hygiene of prisoners, educational methods for their rehabilitation, systems of parole and parole.

"Health measures before the next congress will include the bill to create a division of mental hygiene and rural sanitation in the public health service, which was considered last year; a bill to create a commission for the study of tuberculosis and a bill to provide federal subsidies for local tuberculosis hospitals.

Would Combat Tuberculosis.

"The plan for a federal commission on tuberculosis has been endorsed by four sectional conferences on tuberculosis and the American Public Health association. They point out that last year, while $18,000,000 was spent in the United States for institutional care and treatment, less than $2,000,000 was spent in the entire preventive campaign. They cite the success of Dr. Gorgas in eradicating yellow fever in Cuba and urge that if tuberculosis is attacked similarly by the federal government the next decade will see as marked reduction in the mortality from tuberculosis as we have already seen in smallpox and yellow fever.

"Industrial measures are expected to include those before the last congress and several new ones. Among the recommendations of the commission on industrial relations, those which will be pushed are probably indicated in the announcement made by Chairman Frank P. Walsh, who laid emphasis on the need for a federal law, or, if necessary, a constitutional amendment limiting the power of the courts to declare laws unconstitutional; for an act prohibiting interstate shipment of armed guards, machine guns and other similar weapons except when consigned to the military authorities of the state or nation, and for an act requiring the federal trade commission to consider as unfair competition the exploitation of labor through long hours, low wages, unsafe or insanitary conditions.

"Several other bills modifying the immigration law are expected to come up. Some of these deal with a situation created by the war and provide for letting down the bars to Belgian and other refugees who come to America because of military conquest of their countries. Another effort is expected to extend to all Asiatics the present exclusion laws against Chinese laborers.

Getting His Own Measure.

"Does your wife lecture you?" "Me?" exclaimed Mr. Meekton. "Why, Henrietta wouldn't waste her time lecturing a little bit of an audience like me."

Some Queer Ones

Eating pork three times a day, Indiana farmer says, enabled him to live seventy-five years.

"Too lonesome" was reason given for resignation of Miss Louise Goldsmith as teacher in district school at Flatbrookville, N. J.

Misdemeanor to put your thumb to your nose and twiddle fingers, ruled Kings county (N. Y.) court in fining man for this greeting another.

On first vacation in forty-three years Stockbridge (Mass.) hotel porter will have free use of employers' automobile and chauffeur for a week and see Washington.

Prize optimizer is Indiana negro, who thirty minutes after leaving hospital, where he had spent three months with a broken leg, fell and broke it again and said, "Thankful it wasn't my neck!"

59 KILLED AND 66 INJURED IN 1915 HUNTING SEASON

Michigan Leads With Fourteen Dead; Illinois Is Second.

Fifty-nine dead and sixty-six injured in the hunting toll in eighteen states for the season just ended as compared with 111 dead and 162 hurt a year ago. Last year's statistics were gathered from seventeen states in the Union and one province in Canada.

Michigan, as during the last several years, leads in the number of dead, with fourteen. The season in Illinois produced twelve deaths, while in Wisconsin nine hunters have been reported killed.

Accidental discharge of guns again claimed a majority of the victims in the various states, while many persons in the deer districts took pot shots at what they believed to be game only to learn that they had shot down fellow hunters.

The fact that there were fewer hunters this season than ever before is advanced as the most plausible reason for the low casualty list. Wisconsin during the year passed a stringent game law prohibiting the bagging of deer and permitting each hunter only one buck. The old law was more or less flexible, and hunters swarmed into the state, and accidents were an everyday occurrence.

The saddest of all the hunting catastrophes was the disappearance of H. O. Ehrlicher of Adrian, Mich. He left his lodge near Ekerman, on Nov. 15 without telling his companions, J. N. Kilmush, of his intentions. He had a revolver and rifle, but little ammunition. For two days Kilmush waited, expecting him back every hour. Then he sounded the alarm but a thorough search failed to uncover any trace of the hunter. It is believed that Ehrlicher perished in the great stretch of forest north of Ekerman. He leaves a wife and a four-year-old child.

MRS. GALT CALLS "MAMMY."

Ex-Slave Will Be the Last to Adjust Gown on Wedding Day.

When Mrs. Norman Galt, formerly Miss Edith Bolling of Wytheville, Va., leaves her boudoir to join her fiancé for the wedding ceremony which will take place at the home of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson the loving hands of her "old black mammy" will have given the bouquets of the wedding gown the last loving touch. The train will have been properly adjusted, the last pin put in place and the bride's bouquet properly poised by the hands of "Aunt" Matilda Stetson, who nursed the next mistress of the White House.

This is in accord with an old time southern custom. "Aunt" Matilda has been summoned to Washington, and, accompanied by a half sister, "Aunt" Emma Chapman, who was also nurse to the Bolling children, left Wytheville in answer to Mrs. Galt's call.

FATHER OF 41 WEDS AT 94.

Lonesome, Although He Has 233 Children and Grandchildren.

W. D. Davis, ninety-four years old, the father of forty-one children, thirty-three of whom are living, married Mrs. Mason, thirty-nine years old, at Plymouth, N. C. Twenty-six children of the bridegroom witnessed the marriage ceremony.

This is Mr. Davis' fourth venture in matrimony. He says a man is never too old to marry and that old men should marry young women.

Mr. Davis has 192 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren. Most of both witnessed the ceremony, and they almost filled the church to the exclusion of friends of the principals.

Mr. Davis is a farmer and is in good health. Despite his numerous relatives, he said he was lonesome and wanted a wife.

HUERTA ON WATER WAGON.

Doesn't Consider Wine Liquor; Drinking Beer "Waste of Time."

Huerta thinks he is on the water wagon because, obeying the doctor treating him for jaundice, he abstains from rum, brandy and aguardiente.

"I have been pictured as a drunkard—almost a sot—but, you see, I drink nothing," he said. Then, replying to questions, he added:

"Oh, perhaps a little light wine with the dinner and a glass now and then with a friend—nothing more. Beer? No, no; it is mere waste of time. All warming liquors my doctors forbid."

Beer From Rice.

Perhaps the most peculiar beer in the world is sake, a beer which the Japanese make from rice. It is the common alcoholic liquor of Japan, and is usually heated before drinking.

$73 Deposit Had Grown to $1,620 When Widow Discovered Book.

After lying idle sixty-one years, during which it increased by interest from $73 to $1,620, an account in the Provident Savings Institution of Jersey City is claimed by Mrs. Caroline W. Widen, that city as administratrix of the estate of her husband, Thomas, who died in 1879.

While examining old papers Mrs. Widen came across a bank book which showed that in 1854 her husband had deposited $73 in the institution. The amount had not been disturbed afterward.

Mrs. Widen had been appointed administratrix of her husband's estate, so through her attorney she obtained from Surrogate Sickel at Newark, where the family resided years ago, a certified copy of her letters of administration. With these she will be able to claim the bank account.

HAVE NOTHING ON T. ATKINS.

"Gott Mit Uns?"—Well, He Has Got Mittens Too.

A young American artist who has just returned from a six months' job of driving a British ambulance on the war front in Belgium brings this back straight from the trenches:

"One cold morning a sign was pushed up above the German trench facing ours, only about fifty yards away, which bore in large letters the words: "GOTT MIT UNS!"

"One of our cockney lads, more of a patriot than a linguist, looked at this for a moment and then lamphooked a big sign of his own, which he raised on a stick. It read: "WE GOT MITTENS TOO!"

NO MORE NEED OF PIMPLES

It's the Easiest and Simplest Thing in the World to Get Rid of Them—and No Trouble Either.

Apply antiseptic Ucnol night and morning and you can clear your complexion of pimples and unsightly blotches so quickly and so thoroughly, that you will wonder why you didn't use it before. You can always get Ucnol at The People's Drug Store and it never costs more than 50 cents for a liberal supply, and not only that, if Ucnol does not benefit you or you are dissatisfied with the results, go to the drug store where you bought it and tell them you are dissatisfied and want your money back and you get it without further discussion.

Ucnol is the latest discovery for skin troubles, and the reason it is used so widely is that each person who uses it tells others about it and advises its use. Nothing else ever known possesses the same healing powers, and the way it clears up complexions in a remarkably short time tells the story of its unusual success.

The boy or girl, man or woman, who continues to go among friends with disfiguring and disgusting pimples, when they can be rid of them by using a little antiseptic Ucnol, is, to say the least, lacking in plain every day common sense.

No Bacteria in Old Books.

There is virtually no danger of disease being spread by the books in libraries—unless, of course, they have been used recently by persons having infectious diseases. While cleaning the library of Yale university the dust from the books was chemically analyzed. About half of it was found to be mineral matter, while the other half was paper fiber, wood fiber and moide. No bacteria, such as are common in the mouth were found.

Memories of Savages.

Few scholars of our boasted civilization have memories equal to those of some savage priests who can call off the ancestors of their gods through hundreds of generations without omitting or misplacing a single name. In his complex religious ceremonials and in the arts of war and the chase the savage displays an intelligence quite equal to our own in breadth and depth, although of an entirely different kind.

The Heart Lived In.

Faber has said, "A man's heart gets cold if he does not keep it warm by living in it." Love to others is not a matter of mere outflowing impulse. It must be purposeful and steadfast if there is to be real warmth in it. Only the heart that is lived in and used draws others close to its hearth fire.—Selected.

GERMANY IS READY FOR ECONOMIC WAR

All Supplies Carefully Preserved to Meet Any Emergency.

OIL AND GREASE ARE SCARCE

Kaiser is in a Position to Push Struggle to the Very End—Will Harvest Sunflower Seed, Use Substitutes For Butter and Other Food—Dentists Use No Gold.

If this is an economic war, as has often been said, the Germans are seriously prepared to fight it on the economic field. It is doubtful whether in any other country it could be possible to organize such general campaigns for the saving of rare materials and for the use of substitutes in order to overcome the effects of the British sea blockade.

Germany is running short of oils and fats. What do the Germans organize for a semi-official war committee of oils and fats, which devises means by which the problem may be solved? It consults with chemists on how the fats in the horse cadavers found on the battlefields may best be used for the manufacture of ammunition, and a writer in the Cologne Gazette goes so far as to suggest that "the dead bodies of horses will furnish some soap and grease for industrial use and, provided that the sanitary authorities certify that the animals have not died of a communicable disease, some comestible margarine, or artificial butter." In this same journal it has been suggested that there be issued "carnegie tickets," as well as bread tickets, and that each person should be limited to sixty grams of fatstuff a day.

Advices Use of More Honey.

What the "oil and fat" committee has actually advised the public, through circulars, is that instead of butter and margarine or lard it should use at the table as much of fruit marmalade or honey as possible. It adds that as honey in its pure state is very expensive an artificial honey made of pure honey mixed with sugar starch, a preparation that is guaranteed not to be bad for the health, should be substituted.

The committee has furthermore recommended a general harvesting of sunflower seeds, which contain valuable oils, and an unofficial adviser to the public recommends the saving of the berries on asparagus stalks, which are usually neglected. They bring a price of 20 marks for 100 kilograms. Acorns and horse chestnuts are being saved as fodder, principally for pigs. The potato crop has been good, so that the prices are expected to come down. There is now on foot a general scheme for the systematic supply of potatoes to the public so that every one will get an adequate amount.

The private advisers have a great many more schemes than the public committees. The harvest of straw has not been so abundant as might have been expected, owing to the dry summer. The public is advised to save all old paper, which can be used instead of straw for the making of coarse paper. Another adviser would have all old tin cans, oil bottles, vaseline tubes and cold cream jars saved because as they are never wholly emptied by the users the remnants could be extracted by machinery and the fats thus obtained used for ammunition works. Another suggestion has been to the effect that all the kitchen drains and sewer traps should be cleaned, and the fats clinging to the pipes should be extracted. The fats that are usually wasted have for a long time been saved by the German sewage and garbage disposal plants.

Problem of Heat Puzzling.

The problem of heat and light is also pressing. Kerosene is rare and is reserved for the poorer families. Those well to do are expected to burn spirit lamps, and a new concern has been formed that makes burners for them that can be fitted to the ordinary kerosene lamps. They cost 5.25 marks and give a fifty candle power light at the cost of 5 pfennig, or a little over a cent, per hour. The same kind of lamps are prescribed for school and lecture halls.

Precautions against a shortage of copper and brass have been taken. The authorities have a list of the available amount of brass and copper in every family, such as doorknobs, pots and pans, candlesticks, etc., and should they be needed the household goods would simply be requisitioned. The newspapers have contained several warnings that such a procedure is imminent, adding that people should get substitute utensils at once.

The German Association of Copper Smiths has circulated a petition asking that the old works of art made of copper or brass might be saved, and the Society of Opticians has made a similar plea. The royal has been formally made that they cannot expect to be heard unless they can show that other metals will not serve as well.

More patriotic and self-sacrificing have been the German dentists. The shortage of gold, or rather, the high value of gold as means of paying for war supplies abroad, has interfered with their work in making new teeth or mending old ones. Therefore the German dentists have resolved not to use gold in their professional work.

BRITISH STEAMER SPARED BY U BOAT

"We Are Not Murderers," Says Austrian Commander.

MANY DROWN IN THE PANIC

Submarine Quickly Came Alongside the Barulos and Aided in Rescue Work—Wounded Cared For Aboard Warship, Which Stood by For Five Hours—Only One Shot Fired.

"For God's sake, go back to your ship; we are not murderers!" an officer of a submarine, apparently an Austrian, shouted to 250 passengers of the British steamship Barulos, who had become panic-stricken and jumped overboard when the submarine came upon the vessel in the Mediterranean. Of the passengers twenty-five were drowned. The submarine stood by for five hours and finally let the Barulos proceed to Alexandria. Before the submarine appeared the Barulos picked up three boats from the torpedoed Sailor Prince.

The details of the incident were brought to New York by Mrs. Eleanor Franklin Egan, the magazine writer, who was a passenger on the Barulos.

The Barulos, Mrs. Egan said, carried only four lifeboats, each with a capacity for thirty people. The picking up of the crew of the Sailor Prince created a feeling of excitement, which was at fever heat when suddenly a submarine came to the surface about two miles distant and fired a shot over the Barulos, evidently as a signal for her to stop.

"Instantly a wild panic broke loose," said Mrs. Egan. The four lifeboats of the Barulos were resting in their chocks, while swung alongside were the two boats in which the men from the Sailor Prince had made their escape.

Throw Children Into Sea. "Led by the crew and the fireroom force, the passengers rushed for the boats. Women, unable to get to the boats, threw their children into the sea and jumped after them. Frightened sailors cut the ropes holding the small boats, and when the latter crashed into the water three of the six were swamped and emptied of their human loads.

"I was at the rail when the submarine appeared, and I started back toward the stairs leading below with the idea of helping to quell the panic. I was caught in the rush and literally forced over the side into the sea. I had a hard time to keep above the water, my difficulties being aggravated by the struggles of others trying to catch hold of me.

"It seemed that I had no sooner struck the water than the submarine appeared under the bows of our ship. On her deck I saw a number of men with an officer whom I took to be an Austrian. The submarine, had her collapsible lifeboat out, and the submarine crew was pulling people out of the water on to her deck. The officer was holding up his hands shouting to the people in the water to be calm. I heard him say in perfect English:

"We Are Not Murderers."

"For God's sake, go back to your ship; we are not murderers!" "By this time I had worked my way some distance from the ship, and, seeing one of the lifeboats near, I held up my hand and called for help. The people in the boat responded and after a second attempt succeeded in throwing a line to me when I was all but exhausted.

"The first of the panic over, we rowed back to the Barulos and were taken aboard. Women and children, many in a half-drowned state, were crowded into the deck of the submarine, which remained alongside.

"When all the rescued were returned to the Barulos a toll showed that twenty-five were missing, fourteen children, seven women and four men.

"In addition to the twenty-five drowned many were wounded in the panic. Several of the most serious were taken into the submarine and treated by our ship doctor, who went aboard at the invitation of the submarine commander."

Many Heartrending Scenes. Mrs. Egan said she witnessed many heartrending scenes.

"One woman," she added, "who had lost her three children by throwing them overboard went stark mad. In the stern were a troupe of Japanese acrobats. One of them, a woman with an infant child, was seen almost exhausted trying to cling to the sides of the ship. She was surrounded by many others. A rope was thrown into her hands, but looking up, she exclaimed in English:

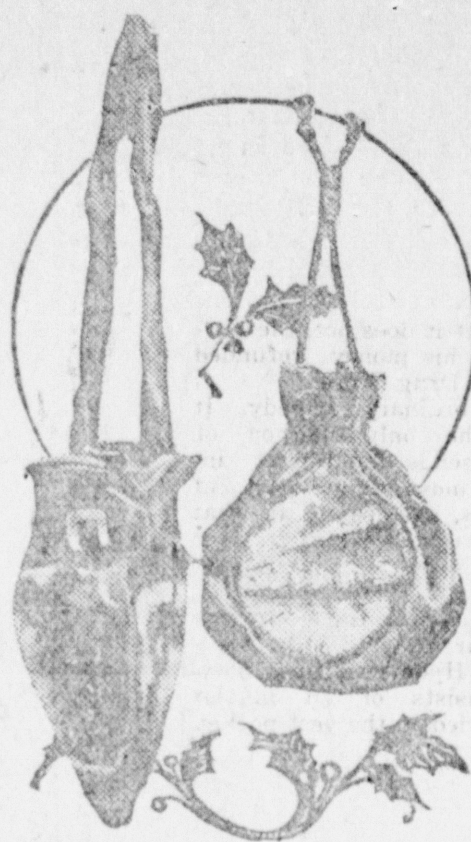

"Don't mind me. I belong to no one and have no one to care for me. Help some one else."

"With these words she passed the rope to another woman and, with her hair in her arms, sank from sight. Another one shot was fired by the submarine. She remained alongside for five hours, or until all possible rescue had been made and the wounded had been attended. She then disappeared under the water, and we proceeded to Alexandria without further incidents. I did not learn her name or designation number, but she was one of the heart-rending boats of her kind I have seen."

Consequence.

"The fellow is drunk with success." "Maybe that accounts for it." "Accounts for what?" "That if you try to teach him for a loan you find his money is tight."

New Styles in Ribbon Bags for the Holidays

EVERY return of Christmas brings with it bags made of beautiful ribbons designed for many different purposes.

A new design in a slipper bag is shown in the picture. It is made of Dresden ribbon over a pasteboard foundation. An oblong box is cut from cardboard, shaped like the cases made for opera glasses, but much longer. The bottom is an ellipse six and a half inches long and three wide. The sides are five inches deep. The bottom and sides are covered with silk and afterward joined.

The upper portion is made of a straight length of ribbon gathered about the box as shown in the picture.

The second bag shown is easy to construct and suited to almost any purpose. It is made by stitching to each edge of a length of striped or figured ribbon, a length of plain satin ribbon, to form a wide strip for making the bag. The ends of this strip are sewed together with a felled seam and the edges sewed together at the bottom. A casing sewed within two inches of the top, carries the ties of narrow satin ribbon by which the bag is closed and suspended.

SMITH HAD THE WRONG IDEA

Easy to Imagine Large Volume of Music Was Made by Hands and Feet, but Not by Ear Alone.

One evening Smith jinnayed to the suburbs to call on his friend Jones, and while they were sitting on the veranda enjoying their after-dinner ragweed large volumes of music broke loose in the adjacent bungalow.

"Some music," commented Smith, glancing through the fireflies to the scenery beyond. "Who might the performer be?"

"It is my neighbor Green," answered Jones. "And would you believe that he plays by ear alone?"

"I would not," was the prompt rejoinder of Smith. "I can easily imagine that he might make that much noise by using both hands and feet and an ax, but you can't make me believe that he does it by banging the side of his head on the keys."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

His Trolley Twisted. He was raving in his family about the fair maid that he had selected to lead him up before the parson.

"Her golden hair, her velvet complexion, her liquid eyes—" he was saying, when his ten-year-old sister interrupted him.

"You are getting things mixed, George," she said. "It is her complexion that is liquid. I was with her when she bought it."

Must Go on Forever.

Time is like a river made up of the events which happen, and a violent stream; for as soon as a thing has been seen, it is carried away, and another comes in its place, and this will be carried away, too.—Marcus Aurelius.

Beyond Kindness. When men and women die, and are beyond all earthly troubles and crises, then the rule is: "Speak no evil of the dead." But is it not worse to speak evil of them while they are alive, while the evil word can wound or injure them? Why wait to be kind and merciful until it is no use what ever?

Wrong Suit. "But," she objected, "you're a jack of all trades. Thou art the queen of my heart," he reminded her, "and the queen takes the jack." Refusing, however, to be impressed with this argument, the maid insisted on a new deal.—Judge.

Right in Line. "My ancestors," haughty little Heloise Aldyne told her nine-year-old playmate Hermione McGuire, "came over before yours did. They came over in the first boat, the Mayflower." "Well mine came over," Hermione said stoutly, her blue Irish eyes flashing with spirit. "In the very next boat, the Juneflower."—Judge.

Noticeable Resemblance. "Isn't that a Bouguereau?" asked Mrs. Oldcastle as they stopped for a moment to look at the new pictures. "Oh, my no," replied her hostess; "it's a lion. But I told Josiah when he brought it home that it looked a good deal more like one of them things you mention."

Her View of It. "My dear," said Hawkins the other evening, looking up from his paper, "here's an article from the pen of an eminent physician to the effect that sleeping in the daytime is very injurious." "Well, that's just like a man," rejoined his wife. "They are always trying to trump up some excuse for staying away from church on Sundays."

Her Prejudiced Attitude. "Yassah, I knowedges de cawn," confessed Brother Bogus. "Owens right up, sah, dat I nit muh wife wid a neck yoke. But fun de way she's been howlin' and gwine on 'bout it since, you'd think I'd nit her wid a tou-boss wagon!"—Kansas City Star.

CATARRH SUFFERERS

Hyomei Guaranteed by The People's Drug Store to Relieve or Money Refunded.

The popularity and increase in sales of Hyomei here in Gettysburg are unique in the annals of medicine. Such astonishing successes have been made by this remarkable remedy that the proprietors have authorized The People's Drug Store to sell every package of Hyomei under an absolute guarantee that it will knock out catarrh for good. If it does not, the purchaser can have his money refunded by The People's Drug Store.

Hyomei is no ordinary remedy. It is pronounced the only method of treatment that sends by direct inhalation to the most remote part of the air passages, a balsamic air that destroys all catarrhal germs in the breathing organs, enriches and purifies the blood with additional ozone, and gives permanent and complete relief from catarrh.

The complete Hyomei outfit is inexpensive and consists of an inhaler that can be carried in the vest pocket, a medicine dropper and a bottle of Hyomei. The inhaler lasts a life time, and if one bottle does not cure, an extra bottle can be obtained for a trifling sum. It is more economical than any remedy advertised for the cure of catarrh, and is the only treatment known to us that follows nature in her methods of treating diseases of the respiratory organs.

(Medical Advertising)*SAVAGE WOMEN HEALTHY

The savage lives in the open, eats simple foods, knows nothing of household drudgery or social life, gets plenty of sleep and exercise and is perfectly healthy and strong, but the civilized woman is a slave to home duties and society, often becomes run-down, nervous and physically unfit to be a companion or wife. Our local druggist, C. Wm. Beales, Prop. of the People's Drug Store, has a reliable, non-secret remedy that is a boon to such women. Its component parts being pentone of iron for the blood, the nourishing properties of beef pentone and the medicinal extractives of fresh healthy cods' livers all dissolved in a delicious native wine. It is really wonderful how rapidly run-down women are built up by its use.

THE MAN WHO KNEW SANTA CLAUS BEST*VISIT FROM ST. NICHOLAS

'Twas the night before Christmas when all through the house

Not a creature was stirring, not even a mouse; The stockings were hung by the chimney with care, In hopes that Saint Nicholas soon would be there. The children were nestled all snug in their beds, While visions of sugarplums danced through their heads;

And Mama in her kerchief and I in my cap Had just settled our brains for a long winter's nap; When out on the lawn there arose such a clatter I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter. Away to the window I fled like a flash,

Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash; The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow Gave the lustre of mid-day to objects below, When what to my wondering eyes should appear But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,

With a little old driver so lively and quick I knew in a moment it must be Saint Nick. More rapid than eagles his coursers they came, And he whistled and shouted and called them by name.

"Now, Dasher! now, Dancer! now, Prancer! and Vixen!

On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donner and Blitzen! To the top of the porch! To the top of the wall! Now dash away! dash away! dash away, all!" As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly

When they meet with an obstacle mount to the sky, So up to the housetop the coursers they flew, With the sleigh full of toys and Saint Nicholas too. And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof The prancing and pawing of each little hoof — As I drew in my head and was turning around, Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound. He was dressed all in furs from his head to his foot, And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot.

A bundle of toys he had flung on his back, And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack; His eyes—how they twinkled! His dimples, how merry!

His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry! His droll little mouth was drawn up in a bow, And the beard on his chin was as white as the snow; The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth, And the smoke it encircled his head like a wreath; He had a broad face, and a little round belly

That shook when he laughed like a bowlful of jelly. He was chubby and plump, a right jolly old elf, And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself. A wink of his eye and a twist of his head

Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread. He spoke not a word, but went straight to his work And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk, And laying his finger aside of his nose

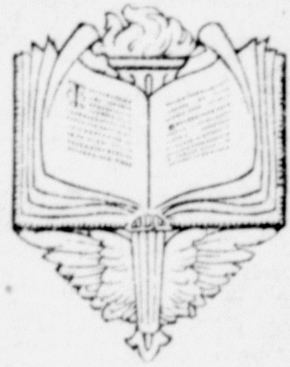

And giving a nod, up the chimney he rose. He sprang to his sleigh, to his team gave a whistle, And away they all flew like the down of a thistle; But I heard him exclaim ere he drove out of sight, "Merry Christmas to all, and to all a good night."

Proof Wanted.
It was 11:59 p. m. by the little premium clock on the mantel. "Yaws," said young Supleigh, "the fellows all say I'm a dreadfully easygoing chap, doncher know?" "Really?" said Miss Cutting, trying to strangle a yawn. "Well, you may be, but I don't believe it."

New Application of an Old Adage.
Proprietor—"I have about decided to employ a female bill collector. What do you think of the idea?" Bookkeeper—"Well, the idea may be all right, but I wouldn't advise you to do it." Proprietor—"What's the explanation?" Bookkeeper—"Because it is said that a woman's work is never done."

Premonitions.
Patriotic Belligerent—"How are you going to describe and comment on this affair?" Press Writer—"I am going to tell you all important facts and put the blame where it belongs." Patriotic Belligerent—"There! I knew all the time that you were bitterly prejudiced against us!"—Longville Leader.

Possible Beneficiary.
"What is the trouble with this telephone?" said the grouchy person. "Every time I want to talk to somebody the line is busy." "Well," replied the patient friend, "it's an ill wind that blows nobody good. Maybe he's lucky for the party you were going to talk to."

Narrow Escape.
"See here, you. You were talking in your sleep last night about a dear and a perfect love." "It refers," explained her husband, "to a perfect love of a hat I am thinking of buying for you." She looked at him suspiciously, but told him to have it sent up.

Sound of a Bullet.
The sound of a military rifle bullet, traveling at 1,500 feet a second, is like that of a long blacksnake who violently cracked. However, the bullet beats the sound, and if a man struck by one hears a crackling it is from some other missile.

MAY STANDARDIZE PRODUCTS OF FARM

Quality and Quantity Should Be Under Federal Control.

WOULD AVOID ALL MISTAKES

Chief of Bureau of Markets Says That Size of Containers Varies in Different Localities--Retailers Accused of Repacking Boxes and Giving Consumer the Short End.

Charles J. Brand, chief of the bureau of markets, United States department of agriculture, told the national conference on marketing and farm credit, in session in Chicago, that standardization of farm products as to quality and as to size and type of package is necessary as an accurate basis for price quotation. He said that accuracy of standards in selling products means a smaller margin between the price paid by consumers and the price received by producers. He thought standardization of containers a proper subject for federal legislation under the weights and measures power of the constitution. He said in part: "We never can have much progress until the buyer and the seller are discussing the commodity in the same terms, and that means that we must have grades and standards not only as to quality, but as to packages and containers. In order to get an accurate idea of the diversity which prevails in this latter regard C. T. Moore of the department of agriculture has made a collection showing the size and types of packages and containers current in the trade. I assure you it is a motley horde and is in itself a complete argument for standardization.

No Boxes the Same.

"New York has one set of grape baskets, Michigan another and still other grape territories other kinds. Some of them look very much like others, but contain less. Such confusion furnishes endless opportunity for manipulation and even dishonesty.

"In the case of strawberry boxes not only is there exceedingly great variation in the cubic contents, but it is a common practice to repack from containers of greater capacity to those of less in distributing in and to the retail trade. Likewise with peaches. The successful commercial orchardist packs his peaches according to the size of the fruit, and often when he buys his own fruit he finds that where he had packed as high as thirty-six to forty-five in each four quart basket the retailer has repacked only nineteen to twenty-five peaches in the same basket.

"Under the weights and measure power of the constitution congress has recently established the standard barrel for apples, cranberries and certain other fruits. This act becomes effective July 1, 1916. Undoubtedly this barrel will replace a large number of short measure packages which are used for potatoes, truck crops, fruit and other things, and which vary in capacity from two bushels up to ten or twelve pecks. The standardization of apple boxes, berry crates and cups and other containers is under consideration, and we may look forward to progress with reference to these."

Enthusiasm.

Enthusiasm is always connected with the senses whatever be the object that excites it. The true strength of virtue is serenity of mind combined with a deliberate and steadfast determination to execute her laws. That is the healthful condition of the moral life; on the other hand enthusiasm even when excited to representations of goodness is a brilliant but feverish glow which leaves only exhaustion and languor behind.—Kant.

Bluebird a Friend of Man.

Like the robin, the bluebird is very domestic, but unlike the robin, it does not prey upon any cultivated product or work any injury whatsoever to the fruit grower. During the fruit season in fact five-sixths of its food consists of insects. It seems, therefore, that the common practice of encouraging the bluebird to nest near houses by placing convenient boxes in which it may build its home is thoroughly justified.

"I don't believe the captain of our ship was an experienced mariner. When we had that accident in mid-ocean, he did not seem to know what to do. But you must remember that it was only natural under the circumstances for him to be completely at sea."

Moral—Keep Advertising.

"What's your business, stranger?" "I'm a business doctor. I doctor up a business that happens to be ailing. What's your business?" "Well, if you're a business doctor I guess you might call me a business undertaker, I'm the therapist."

Exciting Moments.

"Uncle, have you had many exciting adventures in your life?" "Oh, yes, my boy. Several times I have been caught in motor cars driven by fool friends who wanted to show me that their cars could make sixty miles an hour."—Detroit Free Press.

The Consolation of Poverty.

"There's some consolation in being poor, Pat." "What is it?" "You ain't subjected to the humiliation of havin' it sit on the footstool in one of them electric cigar cases while our wives does the drivin'."

His Practice.

"Mary Jane, why do you allow that young fellow to remain so long when he calls?" "You see, pa, he's a lawyer, and no matter how I try to make him go, he always manages when he comes to court, to secure a stay."

U. S. TELLS BERLIN ENVOYS MUST GO

Military and Naval Activities the Reason, Says Lansing.

WILSON BACKS DECISION

Advices From Berlin Say Officers Will be Withdrawn, But Germany May Press for the Reasons.

Washington, Dec. 8.—Secretary of State Lansing has replied to Germany that the American government's request for the withdrawal of Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Pape, the naval and military attaches, respectively, of the German embassy, was entirely because of their military and naval activities.

Secretary Lansing's reply to the German government's inquiry, which indicated the Berlin foreign office intended to contest the withdrawal of the attaches under certain conditions was delivered in a long communication which the German embassy immediately forwarded to Berlin.

At the embassy all comment on it was refused. Neither was there any indication whether the reply would meet the contention of the German government that it should know the reasons for the request for the withdrawal of its officers.

It was broadly intimated to the state department that if the request was based on something else than the developments of the Hamburg-American line conspiracy trial or the case of James J. G. Archibald, the American war correspondent, who secretly carried dispatches for Captain von Pape, Germany would decline to withdraw either of the men.

The general impression was that Secretary Lansing's reply at some length repeats that the two officers have become persona non grata because of their military and naval activities and that, further, under the diplomatic usages existing between nations, it is unnecessary for one government to do more than intimate to another that the presence of a diplomatic officer is distasteful.

Overnight advices from Berlin indicate that the German government would withdraw the officers as requested although it might press for a bill of particulars. The position of the state department is that it will not discuss the facts in the case nor reveal the sources of its information which have led to the decision that the activities of the two attaches make their presence in this country no longer desirable.

President Wilson has fully approved Secretary Lansing's decision and it was said authoritatively it will be adhered to no matter what Germany does.

Secretary Lansing also sent a reply to Germany through Ambassador Gerard at Berlin. In making his inquiry Germany also used two avenues of communication, the German ambassador here and the American ambassador in Berlin.

While there was no indication that the text of Secretary Lansing's communication would be made public, it can be said authoritatively that it declares, as already stated, the American government's action was caused by the military and naval activities of the attaches coupled with circumstances of an accumulative nature which are deemed sufficient for Secretary Lansing's action. These alone are responsible. No mention is made of Mexican affairs nor did the name of General Huerta appear.

DEMOCRATS TO MEET IN ST. LOUIS

National Convention to Open on June 16.

Washington, Dec. 8.—The Democratic national committee, in session here, selected St. Louis as the meeting place of the 1916 Democratic national convention.

The vote on the first ballot was St. Louis, 26; Dallas, 14; Chicago, 12. Texas then moved to make it unanimous for St. Louis, and this was done. June 14 was the date fixed for the convention.

Chairman McCombs, addressing the committee, said:

"We must all cooperate enthusiastically for the full success of the party. This committee can have a wonderful influence in carrying forward the party's success. To my mind, there is no cloud on the Democratic horizon, and it is the duty of this committee to see that no cloud shall gather. I shall work with unremitting and undiminished effort to continue the success we have had heretofore, and I want your suggestions and your cooperation."

A permanent committee on resolutions, headed by Vincent M. Miles, of Arkansas, was appointed. The other members are: Clark Howell, Georgia; Thomas Taggart, Indiana; Norman E. Mack, New York; and Thomas H. Browne, Vermont.

TO PAY $48,490,000 IN TAXES

Assessment of the Reichsbank Under Terms of New Law.

The computation is made by the Overseas News agency of Berlin that the assessment for 1915 on the Reichsbank under the new law taxing war profits will amount to 193,000,000 marks ($48,490,000). Under the terms of the law the tax will not be collected during the war.

The law applies to the Reichsbank as follows: It must pay 100,000,000 marks in 1915 by the abolition of the former tax on circulating notes. It must pay 14,300,000 marks on extra profits in 1914 and 23,000,000 marks on war profits in 1915. The regular taxes, amounting to 4,000,000 marks, bring the total to 193,000,000 marks.

SAFE AFTER 10,000 FOOT LEAP

Parachute Lands Man Without Injury in Air Fifteen Minutes.

Colonel Maitland of the British royal naval air service jumped with a parachute from an aeroplane which was 10,000 feet in the air. He landed safely. The officer has been experimenting with projected developments of the aerial service and arrived at the point where it was necessary to determine whether an air man could land safely by parachute from such a height.

"Some one has to do it," he said. "There is only one person I care to ask. I will make the attempt myself."

It took the colonel fifteen minutes to make the descent, but he solved his problem satisfactorily.

The KITCHEN CUPBOARD

THE YULETIDE TURKEY.

FOR Christmas turkey is usually roasted. There is a great difference in tastes as to the dressing to be used, one favoring one kind and one liking another.

Roast Turkey.—Clean, stuff and truss the turkey and sprinkle with salt. Rub soft butter over the breast and legs and dredge flour over it thickly. Place a rack in a dripping pan and after laying the turkey on put in a pint of hot water. Set the pan in a hot oven and bake the turkey every fifteen minutes, pouring over it the gravy in the dripping pan until the turkey is thoroughly moistened with it and then sprinkle lightly with salt, pepper and flour. At the last basting omit the gravy and moisten instead with a tablespoonful or more of butter dissolved in the same quantity of water. Then dredge lightly with flour. After the first half hour the heat of the oven may be lessened.

Dressing For the Fowl.

Chestnut Dressing.—Take about forty chestnuts of the large variety or three pints of American nuts. Prepare the nuts by making a cut in each with a sharp knife. Then put them in a kettle, cover with cold water, bring to a boil and boil two minutes. Remove from the water, drain, turn into a pan with a little butter and shake over the fire. After this the shells and skins may be removed together. Chop the nuts, add a large cupful of grated bread crumbs, four tablespoonfuls of melted butter, one tablespoonful of shredded parsley, half a teaspoonful of ground poultry seasoning, one teaspoonful and a half of salt and paprika to taste.

The Conventional Gravy.

Giblet Gravy.—Take three plums of cold water, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of salt, two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar, a half cupful of pepper, the neck, liver, heart and gizzard of the turkey. Wash well and place in a stew pan with water. When the water boils skum it. Simmer for two hours or more. There should be about a pint of liquid at this time. Take up the giblets. Mash the liver until perfectly fine and return to the liquid. Place a fryer pan over the fire containing the butter. When hot add the liver and stir until brown. Add to this the liquid in the saucepan, stirring all the time. Season with salt and pepper. Pour this sauce back into the saucepan, cover and set back where it will keep hot. When cooked add gravy from the pan.

A TRAITOR TO HIS TRIBE.

Leads 500 Brothers and Sisters to Death Every Day of the Year.

"Betraying his brothers" is the business of Old Dick, veteran head sheep at the Cleveland Provision company's slaughter house. Every day he leads 500 of his unsuspecting tribe to a bloody death.

He slips through a trapdoor while the rest of the flock run down a narrow chamber, where butchers wait with long sharp knives to slit their throats.

That has been Dick's job for eight years, and as a reward he will be allowed to die a natural death. He chews tobacco and likes cooked food. When rebuked for following his ignominious calling Richard scornfully comments as follows: "Baa-ah!"

Instead of the luxuries of a hotel de Gink, tramps who visit New York this winter will be put to chopping wood and shoveling snow from streets.

Feeble monkey cured of plaintive chatter by hearing phonograph records of its own voice in New York zoo and is so improved has gained several pounds.

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper by Pictorial Review

A Dress For Afternoon.

The center-front of the waist is indicated by small "o" perforations, and this is well to remember in making the waist. The first actual step toward construction, however, is to close the under-arm and sleeve seams as notched, then underface the front edge of the front. Close the back seam and face the square collar and give to neck edge as notched. Gather lower edge of waist between double "T" perforations; sew stay to gathered edge, center-backs even, small "o" perforation at under-arm seam and bring front edge to center-front. Gather long sleeve on single small "o" perforations; draw gathers to the required size and adjust ribbon, or a bias strip of material about 12 inch wide, over gathers. Close cuff given as indicated, sew to short sleeve, single small "o" perforations and seams even.

For the outer front and back, pleat front, placing "T" on small "o" perforations and back. Close seams on right side and finish left shoulder and side seams for opening. Arrange on front and back, with centers even, and neck edges of back together.

Now all is ready for the skirt. First, close the back seam from large "o" perforation to lower edge, finish edge above for placket. Stitch straight or bias bands 12 inches wide when finished to position along crosslines of small "o" perforations. Gather upper edge of skirt between double "T" perforations. Sew to lower edge of waist over stay (leaving lower edge of adjustable front and back free), center-fronts and back seams even, small "o" perforation at under-arm seam. Stitch tape underneath upper edge of skirt (on left side) from center-front to center-back.

The skirt is slightly circular in shape, which gives it a pretty flare about the lower edge.

AMERICAN EXPORT TRADE PERMANENT

Must Continue to Supply France After War Ends.

TWO DECADES TO PAY DEBTS

Raw Materials and Cash Will Be in Continual Demand While Factories Are Being Rebuilt—Head of Steel Trade Foresees Enormous Task in Reconstructing Various Plants.

That the volume of business between the United States and Europe will not cease with the war, that the United States for several years will not have to fear European competition in manufactured products, is the opinion expressed in Paris by Robert Pinot, general secretary of the Comité des Forges de France. This organization is the official representative of the Creusot works and all the other iron and steel manufacturers of France and the medium through which the French government is now getting large quantities of war munitions for the French and Russian armies.

"It is unfortunately true," Mr. Pinot said, "that we must look to the United States for several years to supply us with money or credits and with raw and manufactured materials. We will be working for the next twenty years to pay what we owe. Not before that time can we begin to put any profits in our own pockets. The fear that so soon as the war is ended the manufacturers now busy making arms and cannon and shells will convert their factories into the making of products to compete with yours is unfounded."

Must Rebuild Old Plants. "We will have the enormous task of rebuilding our old steel plants, of reconstructing our automobile, button, cloth, printing and railroad shops, all now busy making munitions, back to their old uses. We will have to try to repair the vast material destruction that has come with the war. Then we will have to do our best to satisfy our own home markets. To do these things we will have to continue to buy of you, as we are now doing for war supplies."

So far as concerns France, we iron and steel men had begun to do a surprising business in the few years before the war. We were not only filling the demands on the home market, but we were beginning to go into the foreign trade. France had almost ceased to be an agricultural nation. I believe, too, that our products were the most perfectly made in the world. Our customers demanded long wearing articles, and we satisfied their demands. An American locomotive is built to last seven years, whereas the railroads we supply want them to last thirty years. This is a condition the American must meet in future competition with us."

In connection with the reconstruction of the French factories destroyed in the north of France, referred to by Mr. Pinot, a current report indicates increasing imports of cotton from the United States and shows that France is now using more American cotton than ever before the war. The totals for the first eight months of this year of such imports were 6,000,000 metric quintals of 100 kilos each. Before the war France had 7,200,000 cotton spindles and 120,000 looms. At the end of 1914 but 25 per cent, or 1,800,000, were in operation, due to the German invasion of the Vosges and Lille districts. Now 40 per cent, or 3,000,000 spindles, are in operation, with 4,200,000 still idle.

MARINES MAY CARRY STICKS.

Idea Borrowed From Tommy Atkins Is Sanctioned by Major General.

Major General Commandant George Barnett of the United States marine corps has sanctioned the carrying of swagger sticks by marines when ashore in uniform or out of garrison. The idea is borrowed from Constable Tommy Atkins of the British army. It is thought that the carrying of the sticks will add distinction to the marines' already attractive uniform. The sticks are from various kinds of wood and are usually twenty-four or twenty-six inches long. Chinese bullets are sometimes used for ferrules and foreign coins for the heads.

The marine is a much traveled man and is quick to pick up ideas of foreign services which will add in any way to his already natty military appearance.

A Tragedy.

By ESTHER VANDEVEER

In a public park in Rio de Janeiro, a lady handsomely dressed walked alone. The fact of her being unattended caused those who saw her to wonder, for it is not usual for one of the higher class to be out alone. When she deliberately took a seat at one end of a bench, at the other end of which sat a man, the surprise was even greater, for she appeared to be a lady. She had been sitting but a few minutes when two gentlemen walked by.

"Gentlemen," she said, "this man who is sitting near me has insulted me. May I ask you to get his address, that my natural protector may demand satisfaction?"

The two men stopped, lifted their hats and offered their services. The accused man denied that he had offended the lady. She begged one of the others to call upon her at her hotel. He did so, sending up his card, bearing the name of Roger Stone, Denver, Colo. "I am fortunate," she said, "in not only finding a countryman to assist me in this affair, but one from the chivalrous west. I am traveling with my twin brother. He is not with me this evening, but will be in later. Will you be the bearer for him of a challenge under the code for tomorrow morning?"

Mr. Stone's surprise at this singular proceeding was even greater than before. He asked the name of the man for whom he was to bear the challenge and was told that it was Harrison—Frank Harrison. He endeavored to learn something of the manner in which the lady had been ill-treated, but she appeared to be so averse to going over the disagreeable details that he did not press the matter. What added to the mystery was that the man who had offended the lady was also an American named Mathews.

The next morning the two parties met on the ground chosen. Mr. Harrison, who was the image of his sister and looked equally feminine, was attended by Mr. Stone, the other principal's second being a Brazilian. His opponent protested against the proceeding, for which he said he was unable to account. He disclaimed any intention of interfering with Miss Harrison, and if he had unwittingly done so he would apologize. The lady's defender refused to accept an apology, and preparations were made for the encounter, which was to be fought with pistols.

When the two principals were placed face to face at thirty paces interval and the signal was about to be given to fire Harrison made a signal for delay. Then, addressing his opponent, he said:

"Jim Mathews, you don't know me, for you have never seen me before. I am not Frank Harrison. I am Eugenia Phillips, widow of the man you ruined and drove to suicide three months after our marriage. I have followed you all the way from Virginia City for the express purpose of killing you. I found you yesterday and took measures for this meeting."

A deadly pallor spread itself over the face of the man addressed. His enemy nodded to the man who was to give the signal. He hesitated. The woman raised her pistol, and her adversary followed her act. A white handkerchief fluttered to the ground. The man's hand trembled; the woman's was steady as a rock. Two shots rang out, and the man fell with a bullet in his heart.

The woman stood for a few moments looking at him who had blighted her life and on whom she had taken revenge, then sank in a swoon.

The finishing of this tragedy, occupying as it did but a minute or two, did not give the seconds any time to prevent it. Indeed, they were paralyzed with surprise. When the woman fell her second ran forward, took her up and bore her to the carriage in which she had come onto the ground. He took her to her hotel and called for a doctor, for she was hysterical.

Meanwhile Mr. Stone busied himself to prevent the affair from getting out, and by pledging the few persons involved to secrecy and bribing the police he succeeded. Had it not been for the burial of the slain man the bribe would not have been necessary.

As soon as the lady was able to travel she sailed for the United States, and on the same steamer was her second in the duel.

From the time of that episode Roger Stone was a changed man. The tragedy at which he had assisted, the wrecking of a woman's life, affected him materially. It's not easy for a man to witness a woman's sufferings without being strongly drawn to her. On reaching the United States Stone and the widow both sought the west, where they lived. Stone visited Mrs. Phillips frequently and in time begged her to permit him to devote the rest of his life to her. Though grateful for his sympathy and the service he had rendered her, she told him that it would not be right for one whose nerves had been shattered to burden one who seemed to have a pleasant career before him. Besides, she had a life on her conscience. To this latter statement he said that if he had had time to gain a correct understanding of the case the life would have been on his conscience instead of hers, but it would not have been a heavy load to bear. By dint of persuasion he finally gained his point. And now the tragedy is in the dim distance, and its keen edge has been worn away.

Obviously a Truth.

Someone says that the ideal husband is never bald. Since there is no such person, that must be true—Albany Journal.

Gray Hair Becomes Dark, Thick, Glossy

Try Grandmother's Old Favorite Recipe of Sage Tea and Sulphur.

Almost everyone knows that Sage Tea and Sulphur, properly compounded, brings back the natural color and lustre to the hair when faded, streaked or gray; also ends dandruff, itching scalp and stops falling hair. Years ago the only way to get this mixture was to make it at home, which is messy and troublesome.

Nowadays we simply ask at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound." You will get a large bottle for about 50 cents. Everybody uses this old, famous recipe, because no one can possibly tell that you darkened your hair, as it does it so naturally and evenly. You dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair disappears, and after another application or two, your hair becomes beautifully dark, thick and glossy and you look years younger.
